

UVA EXPRESS

AUGUST 18 - 19, 2009

"After traveling literally halfway across the world on a 24-hour plane ride, there is nothing better than a heart-warming welcome from the volunteers of UVaExpress. It was the first time I ever stepped into the United States; thanks for easing my anxiety and for making sure that I arrive safely in U.Va."

- Karissa Nanetta, Class of 2012

UVAEXPRESS is free, coordinated bus transportation and hospitality program for first year international and transfer students from Dulles International Airport in Washington, DC and Charlottesville Airport to the University of Virginia on Tuesday, August 18, and Wednesday, August 19, 2009. The program is coordinated by the University of Virginia's Office of Engagement and financially supported by a U.Va. graduate in Singapore as well as the U.Va. Parents Committee.
