Quick Facts
- 34% of Students Demonstrate Financial Need and 100% of that need is met.
- This need is met through scholarships, grants, work-study, and loans.
- The University of Virginia is one of only two public universities nationwide to meet full need for all in-state and out-of-state students.
- A student’s family finances are considered only after an offer of admission has been extended.

“Perhaps the greatest challenge facing higher education today is the need to balance two equally important and equally demanding obligations: to sustain academic excellence while ensuring that a college education remains affordable for students from all financial backgrounds.”
- Teresa Sullivan, President
